Mrs. J. F. Smithson Died Early Today

Mrs. J. F. Smithson, aged 33, of Huntington, formerly Miss Eva Madison, of this city, died at the home of her mother, Mrs. O. E. Madison, on Cross street this morning at 12:10 a. m. Death was due to a complication following child birth. She had been sick about two weeks. Mrs. Smithson was born and raised in this city, and was educated in the schools of Hinton. Since her marriage she had lived in Huntington. She united with the First Baptist church of Hinton while a young girl and was baptized by Rev. E. E. Northen and was a devout member of her church. The deceased is survived by her husband, son Carrol, father, O. E. Madison, mother, Mrs. Annie Madison, two brothers, Dorsey and Claude, and one sister, Miss Orrin Madison.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Central Baptist church at 2:30 p. m., Saturday by Dr. E. E. Northen of Bluefield, in charge, assisted by Rev. H. P. Hackney, pastor of the Central Baptist church. Burial will take place at Hill Top cemetery.

Mrs. Smithson was known by most of the people of this community and had a large following of friends who are sorry to hear of her death. The Daily News joins a host of friends in extending sympathy to the grief stricken family.
